

Building a high-performing government

Alliance Profile

Organizing and managing talent within an organization is critical. Waypoint Consulting Group's relationship with ELSolutions is designed to provide consulting services to help agencies in their efforts to define solutions that results in world-class leadership.

Government leaders continue to face increasing pressure to meet higher standards of performance with fewer resources and less time. Many who are promoted quickly discover a gap between knowing how to do the job themselves vs. how to produce results through others. ELSolutions accelerates the development of leaders by:

- Utilizing the experiences of other successful leaders and managers
- Leveraging best practices within similar organizations and markets
- Creating environments within organizations where hands-on, day-to-day experiences provide more rapid development of rising leaders

ELolutions' leadership development process creates an environment where new and developing leaders can thrive, resulting in continuous and sustainable successes.

Waypoint and ELSolutions have worked together for many years collaborating on a variety of consulting projects. We leverage the power of our portfolios with the goal of providing what you need, when you need it to deliver solutions that drive mission success.
